General information

Conditions

Under the Wireless Telegraphy Act a licence issued by Ofcom is required before any person may establish or use any station for wireless telegraphy or install or use any apparatus for wireless telegraphy in the UK and UK territorial waters.

Information for new applicants

To be eligible for an Amateur Radio Full Licence you must either:

- Have passed the City & Guilds Radio Amateurs' Examination (RAE); or
- Have obtained a pass in RSGB Advanced Exam

To be eligible for an Amateur Radio (Intermediate) Licence you must either:

- Have attended the Novice Licence training course, have obtained a course completion slip (NLTC) and have passed the Novice (NRAE) Radio Amateurs' Examination. The date of completion of the training course must precede that of the pass for the examination; or
- Have obtained a pass in the RSGB Intermediate exam.

To be eligible for an Amateur Radio (Foundation) Licence you must:

- Have obtained a pass in the RSGB Foundation exam.

To be eligible for an Amateur Radio Full (Club) Licence you must:

- Already have an Amateur Radio Full Licence or Full (Reciprocal) Licence; and
- Supply details of two club officials (excluding yourself).

To be eligible for a Full (Reciprocal) Licence you must:

- Have a Harmonised Amateur Radio Examination Certificate (HAREC) from a country which is a signatory to the CEPT T/R 61-02 Recommendation.

To be eligible for a Full (Temporary Reciprocal) Licence you must:

- Be a visitor to the United Kingdom. This Licence is valid for up to six months. You will not receive a UK call sign. This licence is only issued to licensees from a country that has a reciprocal licensing agreement (See Annex 1) with the U.K. You must possess a licence, the qualification (equivalent to that for a Full licence) for which is recognised by the UK. Licensees from countries which are signatories to the CEPT T/R 61-01 Recommendation and possess the relevant licence do not need to apply for a UK licence if operating within the UK for less than three months.

* Licensees are required to validate their details at least once every five years unless they have notified Ofcom that their details have changed during that period.

** Including the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man.

Requesting a call sign

If you would like to request a particular call sign in the current series of call signs indicated on the Ofcom website, you may do so when completing Section 7 of this form. To avoid the disappointment of the call sign you requested not being available you can list three call signs in order of preference. Before completing Section 7, we recommend that you telephone Ofcom to check that the call sign is available. The call sign will only be issued to you once your completed application is received. Call signs are issued on a 'first come first served' basis. Please note that if you previously held a call sign, this will be re-issued to you and you will not be able to request another call sign.

Transfer of call signs are not normally permitted except under exceptional circumstances. Please note that this form cannot be used for the transfer of call signs. Any such requests should be made separately in writing to Ofcom by letter. See Ofcom Policy Statement on the 'Transfer of amateur radio call signs' on our website www.ofcom.org.uk

Data Protection Act:

The information you provide in this form and any information submitted will be used by Ofcom for the purpose of issuing, amending, validating and/or surrendering an Amateur Radio licence. See Ofcom's website for our data protection statement (www.ofcom.org.uk). We will keep your information confidential and will not disclose it to third parties, except where we are required to do so by law or where we have obtained your consent in advance.

Publication of name and mailing address

Ofcom only permits publication of your name and mailing address in a call book, where you have given consent by ticking the appropriate box. If you have not consented, only your call sign will be published. If this call book is compiled, stored and published by a third party, either in written form or by 'read only' computer disks, it will be made clear to the third party that the information will be disclosed to it solely for the publication of a call book and for no other purpose.
