

The Ham

We all have secret desires somewhere
locked up within our heart or mind.
We all wish we could be that someone who can find ways to help mankind!
With all sorts of gadgets and gizmos
available to an electronics enthusiast.
We still spend countless numbers of hours
trying to accomplish, as in the past, that special electronic device which we hope that will benefit us all.
Regardless of our efforts, however,
the rewards always seem to be small!
I'm one of those geeks who seeks that all but elusive goal to make a newer electronic invention in my 'shack'
that does not so easily break!
Not seeking fame or fortune, though,
I shall remain an 'Amateur' at heart!
For, if I became a professional sort,
the term 'Ham' could never start!

By: Eddie M. Phillips
Amateur Radio Station: N4EMP