

BEAVER VALLEY AMATEUR RADIO CLUB REPEATER RULES:-

Why do we need rules at all for repeater conduct or etiquette? We tend to assume that everyone knows the generally accepted rules. But, that could be careless of us and unfair to those who want or need to have a clearer definition.

It can also create discord when repeater users offend others by unknowingly breaking some unwritten rule. Activities that may be an irritation or even a flagrant violation to one person might not be an issue at all to another. It's probably best for us to be clear about the rules we really think are important.

We understand that everyone slips once in a very great while, no matter how hard they try. But, we expect all users of the Repeater to do their very best to follow these few simple and obvious rules of repeater conduct.

1. Always identify according to the regulations.

Correct operating procedure is a distinct characteristic of Amateur Radio.

It's important that you convey to the public and to new hams the image that Amateur Radio operators really know what they are doing. A friendly style is great, but takes pains to operate professionally. Don't become sloppy. Amateur Radio regulations are largely self-enforced and we all need to work together towards these goals.

2. Avoid lengthy conversations.

Please limit conversations to 5 or 10 minutes. Then take a good long break or move to another frequency. Other hams probably want to use the repeater but might not be interested in the subject your group is discussing. None of us should monopolize the repeater, even unintentionally.

It's not enough to pause now and then and invite others to join in. They may just not be interested in the topic. Be polite, and don't be a "repeater hog."

3. Do not engage in political soap boxing.

Soap boxing, which goes hand-in-hand with overly long conversations, is when people carry on a conversation on the repeater that is a thinly disguised broadcast. The subject is generally to "put down" an institution, group, or an individual for as wide as possible an audience. Do not go onto great lengths about your own accomplishments or experiences.

Using the club's repeaters as a platform for soap boxing is unacceptable.

Conversations on the repeaters should be friendly ones. Do not make them negative commentaries on institutions, groups, or people. Avoid discussions on inappropriate subjects including politics, sex and religion!

Don't use the repeaters to "put people down." Amateur Radio is not a broadcast medium - Broadcasting of any kind is illegal.

Are we talking about censorship? No, not exactly. A person may have the right to stand on the street and say bad things about someone. They don't have the same right when they are a guest in that person's house.

When using the repeaters, you are a guest operator of our station.

No one has any right to use the club's repeaters in ways that the club feels are objectionable.

4. Do not routinely circumvent the time-out timer.

The repeater's time-out timer serves two purposes. The first purpose is to satisfy regulation requiring us to limit repeater transmissions to a maximum of three minutes under automatic control. Two minutes for drive time during the morning and evening commute. Like many repeater owners, we also use the time-out timer as a way to encourage users to limit the length of individual transmissions.

This gives everyone a chance to speak. Under normal conditions, it is rude to get around the time-out timer by momentarily dropping carrier to reset the timer or saying "Stand by, let me reset" and continuing. Always remember there may be an emergency, someone may need the repeater. Please listen for the beep, wait a few seconds then continue!

We have actually heard repeater conversations in which the average individual transmission was six to seven minutes. Even with only two stations talking, that would require each station to identify both at the beginning and the end of every transmission

Resetting the time-out timer should only be done as absolutely required and infrequently. Learn to speak concisely and limit the length of your individual transmissions.

5. CB Lingo, "Q" codes and excessive phonetics.

Amateur Radio operators find the sound of CB lingo worse than fingernails on a blackboard. The main thing to remember is to just talk as you normally would. Talk just like you would to someone in person.

There's nothing different about talking over the radio. Using slang jargon just labels a person as an ex-CBer.

Using any of the "Q" codes is just about as bad, but is generally overlooked. QSY, QRT, QSL, QTH. Please don't use phonetics for every letter you need to say.

For example: "The handle here is Hollingsworth, Hotel, Oscar, Lima, Lima, India, November, George, Sierra, Whiskey, Oscar, Romeo, Tango, Hotel, QSL?, the home QTH is in Manchester, Mike, Alpha, November....." You are talking on an FM repeater not a station in Europe on 80 Meter sideband.

Just talk normal.

6. Always yield the frequency to a breaking station

This applies to calling or breaking stations you never know if they have an emergency or not...no more "station recognized". Always yield the frequency to a net, whether it is a practice net or not.

7. Selling other items OTHER than ham related equipment

Obviously selling any ham equipment is allowed as long as its not done on a regular basis as a business.

8. Our repeaters are "G-Rated" 24 hours a day.

You never know who may be listening. Even late at night, there are generally people listening to the repeater, including non-hams.

This is important to understand for several reasons.

Our repeaters serve many purposes. One of the most important is the exposure it gives the hobby to the community. Any scanner can be used to listen to our repeaters. That's good - It's actually the most visible aspect of our club.

It's one of our most effective forms of publicity.

We want non-hams to know that Amateur Radio is an interesting hobby and a good group of people to get to know - something clean and educational - something they would want their kids to get involved in. Kids may or may not listen late at night, but their parents do.

Think about CB. The government tolerates the language on CB partly because they only use a few kilohertz of spectrum. It's not a huge waste. Amateur Radio, on the other hand, uses a lot of valuable spectrum.

There needs to be a noticeable difference between Amateur Radio and CB. Don't let our activities on the air become a weapon in the hands of people who want to discredit us. Let's all do our part to give Amateur Radio a positive image.

We want any ham that listens to us to think of us as good operators, not idiots.

Any time we talk on the repeater, we are ambassadors for the hobby.

Have you ever noticed how you like to listen to some repeaters, but sometimes you find a repeater that makes you roll your eyes and twist the knob? We lose good people because of what they hear on our repeaters.

Our rule is simple: absolutely no obscene, indecent or profane language at any time.

What gives CLUB the right to tell someone how to operate?

All repeaters have rules. And, users who refuse to comply with the repeater's rules can be told to stop using the repeaters. This is entirely at the judgment of the repeater trustees.

"...Limiting the use of a repeater to only certain user stations is permissible." There are no qualifications - ifs, ands, or buts - to this rule. This isn't just the right to close a repeater. In fact,

"...a repeater does not have to be listed as being "closed" in order to have a limited access.

Listing a repeater as "open" means you don't have to be a member in order to use it. But, you still must follow the rules of the repeater.

The trustee's have the right to control the use of their repeater.

Here is our policy: the BVARClub repeater is open for all to use, provided you follow the club's rules in using them.

"A repeater is not a public utility - you don't have a "right" to use it!

When you are using someone else's repeater you are, in effect, a visitor in the owner's station. So, you should conduct yourself accordingly.

If you use that station in a manner that the owner finds objectionable, that person has every right to revoke your privilege of using it!"

To use our repeaters you must follow our rules. There are repeaters with more lenient rules than ours are and some which are much more restrictive.

It's up to each repeater owner to set their own operating rules. A repeater user needs to try to fit in. If the rules for repeaters are uncomfortable for you and do not suit your personal needs or style we encourage you to try other repeaters or even try talking on simplex. We wish for everyone willing to abide by these simple rules to freely use our repeaters. We welcome you and hope you have many enjoyable conversations on the BVARClub repeater.
