Ham Radio University 2005 a BIG success! The sixth annual Ham Radio University was held this year at Briarcliffe College, 1055 Stewart Avenue, Bethpage, Long Island, NY 11714. A record turnout of over 450 attendees came through the door. HRU is a day of education to share ideas, experiences, knowledge and fellowship among Amateur Radio operators. HRU 2005 featured 25 different forums covering all areas of ham radio, Amateur Radio demonstrations, an area for clubs and organizations, a special event station (W2V) and a VE session. Thanks are extended to all the volunteers, forum moderators, committee staff, VE team, clubs and organizations for all their efforts that made HRU 2005 a success. A HRU 2005 committee wrap-up meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 8th at 7 PM at Briarcliffe College cafeteria. For more information about HRU including an up-to-date forum schedule, see be necessary. A budget for anticipated revenues and expenditures has to be done before a final figure can be determined.

OLD BUSINESS:

For our November meeting our guest speaker, Diane Ortiz, K2DO, provided an interesting interactive discussion on reaching out to the public. She picked up on our concerns about the future of the club as expressed during the report on the Bellmore Fair. This had been our first outreach effort in years with disappointing results. A more detailed report will follow at a later date.

We then had a discussion about possible programs for 2005. The following suggestions were made:
Phil, N2ZUB was interested in learning more about Echo Link;
Al, K2ES suggested that some ARRL tapes might be useful for programs;
Sid, K2LJH suggested a tape on Integrating Amateur Radio with computers, such as the Win Link tape.

NEW BUSINESS:

Broadband Over Power Lines (BPL) Report

Sid K2 LJH reported that the ARRL is establishing local committees across the country to monitor BPL. Sid is chairing the committee for NYC and LI. There are currently two test sites in NYC-Manhattan, operated by Con Ed.

There is no DX Report this month.

Vic K2IY will try to arrange a board meeting before HRU 2005.

Meeting was adjourned at 8:50 PM for our Holiday Party. HAPPY HOLIDAYS TO ALL!

Respectfully submitted,
Bill N2RRX, Secretary
