Little read-me for beta testersV0.2k

- % are now averaged and you can rest the count
- H-A checkbox means" Hardware Accelerator". Take care, it is just experimental, I can't be sure of the result you will have depending your graphic card. On my side it is better to not use it, but you can test at your own risk… it is just for beta test and your result can help me to know if I let this option
- No more conflict between Detect all et Show next
- Digole option (new info in the .ini file) is not finished to be completely implemented and tested
- Minitiouner V2 LNB voltage extension can now be set in the .ini file
- Some more little issues have been fixed
