

By the way, the Siberia sand is rich in Uranium. I told my friends about it. You should charge extra for such samples that have known uranium or thorium. When you get better I will send more info. The picture is a scan from my analyzer, that's what I do with my samples, test them for natural or man made radioactivity (strange hobby I know). George

