

DX Land

With my microphone clutched in my hand and the bands all opened up so wide.
I try sending out my call across the land with the hope of reaching someone in stride!
But, just about the time I'm about to give up and say to myself; "What's the use?"
Someone returns my callsign from afar.
And my emotions start to turn loose!
Not knowing my signal had 'made the trip.'
I had been caught by a big surprise!
To imagine that someone had heard me brought tears of joy to my eyes!
It is such of an indescribable thrill to talk to a station in a QSO (conversation) reply.
And, when you receive their confirmation (QSL) card,
It helps to show the contact as being No LIE!
You know, anyone can talk a short distance today!
Oh, but it is so much more the grand when your signal reaches that distant station in the place called; 'DX-Land!'
