

The Ham Shack

There is that certain special place
Amateur Radio Operators (Hams) love to go.
Where everything is always in it's place.
Well, at least we WANTED it so!
There are nuts, bolts, screws and such
in an assortment of type and size.
There are maps and reference materials
For all of those with "inquiring eyes."
QSL cards sent from various places
that were contacted by us one day.
Are now covering the walls of our "shack"
And were proudly placed there for the display!
The "Ham Shack" is this special place for which we Amateurs love to go!
With many a dream being dreamed there.
It's a "ham thing" --- You Know!!
Should something ever be misplaced.
And we know that -- Heaven Forbid!
You will always hear these immortal words;
"Where has my so-and-so been hid?"
