Dear Mr. Brown,

Thank you so much for sending me the radio message from my son. To be able to communicate with him and with Mr. Grey at such short notice certainly bridges the terrific gap between us. Will you send the following messages for me? I presume making them as brief as possible facilitates matters.

Zane Grey: Schooner Yacht "Fisherman"
K. NT

Mail and manuscript from Tahiti received. Less improving. Burton delighted with novel. Had satisfactory interview with Laskey today. All well. Much love

Mally

Romer Zane Grey: (same address)

San José picked up your message of January twenty-second.
So glad to hear from you. Try it often. Outdoor Life also accepted your story. Details by letter.

Love

Mother

If two of these messages are too many to send together, please take the one for Zane Grey first.
How often may I send radios without trespassing on your time? And is it better to make them brief? You see, I don't know very much about it. Please don't bother to make a separate point of answering my questions. The next time a message comes will be soon enough.

With many thanks, I am

Yours sincerely,
Lucia Elsie Grey
(Mrs. Jane Grey)
